

LOCAL NEWS.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Owing to the negligence of a switchman the switch at Bennings—the junction between the East Alexandria and the Baltimore and Potomac railroads—was left open last night, and in consequence, the express train bound from Washington to New York, ran into the Midland freight train which was waiting there for it to pass. The two trains were thrown from the track and mingled in one indiscriminate mass, a complete wreck. The fire from the engines was communicated to the postal and express cars, which, with their contents, were totally destroyed.

The clerk of the postal car is supposed to have perished in the flames, as no trace of him could be found up to a late hour last night. One man whose name was not ascertained, was injured about the body and will probably die. No other cases of injury were reported. The New York train was in charge of Conductor Hambright and Engineer Trueman. To neither of these gentlemen is the least blame attached, nor to the conductor nor engineer of the Midland train. As soon as the news of the accident reached Washington, the Superintendent of the Baltimore and Potomac railroad was notified, and at once sent wreckers to the scene, and everything was done to aid those who were detained by the accident.

Early this morning a train, with Superintendent DuBarry, arrived at the Baltimore and Potomac depot in Washington from the scene of the disaster, bringing the body of the postal clerk, Mr. Thos. Fayman, whose parents reside in Washington, and the injured man, who was removed to Providence hospital. The remains of Mr. Fayman, which are buried to a deep, nothing but the trunk remaining, were placed in a coffin and put in the baggage-room of the depot and the coroner was notified.

The only thing saved from the burning cars was the express box, which was so much injured by the fire that the money inside was destroyed.

Every effort was made to save Mr. Fayman, but the flames gathered so fast around the cars that his friends were obliged to leave him to his fate.

Great blame is attached to the switchman, who, it is said, stood near by and saw the collision.

U. S. COURTS.—In the U. S. Circuit Court today, Judge Hughes, presiding, the grand and petit jurors appeared, when the grand jury retired to their room, but up to the close of this report had made no further presentments.

U. S. vs. Samuel Banks, colored, of Loudoun, for retailing liquor without license; jury and verdict of not guilty, and prisoner discharged, and the petit jury adjourned until to-morrow morning.

U. S. vs. The Richmond and Danville R. R. Co. for taxes and penalties; continued to be heard in this city on the 16th of February, when peremptory trial ordered.

In the District Court, in the matter of John Hawxhurst, the trustees were ordered to sell under deed of trust, and restraining order against trustees.

In re John McKimney; case remanded to Loudoun County and assignee to be made party to the suit pending therein.

In re J. P. Stover; order discharging assignee.

In re J. P. C. Peters; order for the payment of certain judgments against McArran, &c.

In the matters of C. H. McMurray and John P. C. Peter, bankrupts, certain creditors in whose favor debts were contracted by the firm of C. H. McMurray & Co., (of which firm said bankrupts were the members) since the adoption of the present State constitution, in the evidence of which debts the debtors were witnesses of homestead by the firm, contended that these waivers were good against said bankrupts individually in their claim for homestead exemption out of their individual assets. Counsel for the bankrupts argued that the waiver of homestead by the firm could not prejudice the rights of the individuals composing the firm to exemptions out of the individual assets. That the waiver by the firm was a nullity, and that the bankrupts were entitled to their exemptions—this position was sustained by the Court. An appeal was taken to the Circuit Court. Jas. W. Green and T. M. Archer for creditors; L. L. Lewis for bankrupts.

POLICE REPORT.—The following cases have been reported at police headquarters since yesterday:

Mary Randal and Catherine Hill, colored, for stealing the door steps in front of the house occupied by Mr. Richard Rowland, on south Fairfax street, were ordered to pay damages or go to the work house for thirty days.

J. T. Burnett, charged with assault with intent to kill John Parker, was again recognized for his appearance to-morrow.

The above cases were before the Mayor.

Susan Turner for threatening Corolla Day, both colored, was discharged by Justice Padgett upon the payment of costs and giving security to keep the peace.

Four lodgers were accommodated at the station house last night.

WOOD FOR THE POOR.—The one hundred cords of wood, purchased by the City Council for the poor of the city have been almost consumed, but the applicants continue to increase in number, filling both the Mayor's public and private offices nearly the whole day. Many of the applicants are deserving, but many who are not, avail themselves of the opportunity to get small supplies of fuel without expense, saving the money, which they could well afford to pay, for the purchase of other things. And there are many, also, who receive supplies of this fuel—which ought to be given only to those who can't help themselves—who make it the means of rendering comfortable their idleness and desire for lounging about the city, who could obtain remunerative employment by going to the country.

THE LATE MRS. JACOBS.—Mrs. Charlotte Jacobs, who has just died at an advanced age, was born in Anne Arundel county, Md., on the 25th of July, 1782. In her early days she married Capt. Henry B. Deagan, who was at one time master of a ship and also a flour merchant on King street. After Capt. Deagan's death his widow married Thos. Jacobs, a well known merchant tailor of Alexandria in 1802. Her funeral that was to have taken place this afternoon was postponed until eleven o'clock to-morrow morning.

THE NETTIE GREEN CASE.—Mr. Charles E. Stuart, who went to Richmond to argue the case of Nettie Green, convicted of murder and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, has returned. The Court of Appeals will probably render its decision on Thursday next. One point in the appeal was the uncertainty of the law regarding the trial of felony cases by Corporation Courts, and a bill is now before the Legislature, and will probably pass that body before the decision of the case referred to, settling the question by giving such jurisdiction to Corporation Courts.

LOUDOUN COURTS.—The January term of the Loudoun County Court begins on Monday, and on Monday week the January term of the Circuit Court, Judge Keith's will commence. Several important criminal cases will engage the attention of the Court, among them that of J. W. Gouldin, under indictment for the murder of Jos. McFarland, in July last.

HAMILTON.—The citizens of Hamilton held a meeting on Monday night last, and adopted unanimously the report of the committee on boundary and charter. A committee was appointed to dispatch the charter to Senator Taylor and request that he urge an immediate passage through the Legislature of an act of incorporation.

CO-OPERATIVE BUILDING ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the German Co-operative Building Association, No. 2, was held last night. The following named officers were unanimously re-elected: Robert Porter, president; J. Schneider, secretary; L. Stien, treasurer; and E. Francis and Thomas Rishell directors, to serve for three years—L. Eichberg, E. E. Dowham, J. H. Reid and H. H. Price, old directors, holding over. Geo. Hutton, Joseph Kaufman, and R. B. H. Jr., were elected trustees. A dividend of $3.50 cents a share, the par value of which is $12.50, was declared; and ten loans, amounting to $2,000, were made at a reduction of 40 per cent. It was also determined to issue no new series of shares during the ensuing year. The annual statement of the condition of the company has been published already.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.—A brakeman named Guff, living in Lynchburg, and running upon the freight train upon the Danville division of the Midland Railroad, while engaged in putting a car upon the siding at L. Weyer's road, last night, about seven o'clock, slipped and fell from the car, and was run over and instantly killed. His remains were brought to Lynchburg. The deceased had been upon the material train for a long time, and had frequently been running upon the freight trains.

RIPARIAN RIGHTS.—Capt. Chap Hall was before Justice Kirby of Fairfax county, at Justice Padgett's office, in this city, yesterday, on complaint of John Beach, the rector of the Brookmaw property, on Hunting Creek, with-out the complainant's consent, and was discharged upon the payment of costs and promising to repeat the complaint no more.

PHILADELPHIA STEAMERS.—As will be seen by reference to the advertisement of the Philadelphia line of steamers, elsewhere in the Gazette, but one steamer is now on the route. She leaves Philadelphia every Saturday and this port every Tuesday. The other steamer has been taken off the line temporarily to undergo some necessary repairs.

PATENT.—A patent has been granted to Messrs. Geo. E. S. Phillips and William A. Young, of Berryville, Clarke county, for an improvement in Cheese-knives. This knife is guaged so as to enable the merchant to cut a quarter, half, or whole pound or more of cheese, without weighing it.

SUMMER RESORT.—J. B. Franklin and Edward Ruse have rented the dwelling of J. K. Taylor, in Hamilton, Loudoun county, and intend to open the house for the accommodation of visitors in the summer.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Complaint is often made of the poor quality of the beef sold in this market, but if that exposed at the stall of Mr. Pierpont this morning—a sample of which was sent to this office—was not as good as any offered for sale in the New York, or any other market, judges of meat don't know what they talk about. It was a "sight to see," and will be delicious to taste.

The weather this morning was clear and bright and the sun's rays were warm, but the air was damp and cool and by no means favorable to the cure of those affected by the prevailing epidemic or to the prevention of the spreading of that disease.

A concert and festival were given at New Hope Church, in Stafford, on the 28th ult., to aid in needed repairs and improvements to the church building. The whole affair was a complete success, and the pecuniary results equalled expectation.

An omnibus, loaded with young people from the city, bound to a ball in West End, broke down on the road to that village about ten o'clock last night, but the occupants waited until another vehicle that was sent back for arrived and took them on their way rejoicing.

Judge Hughes has been summoned to appear before the House-Naval Committee to testify in the Stowell case, but as he is ignorant of the transaction, or any thing connected with it, his testimony will not be of importance.

Letters addressed to H. C. Bird, Philadelphia, Pa.; J. R. Kiechle, Accoon, Va.; J. S. Napper, Bridgeport, Pa., and M. C. Stricker, Greigsville, Va., are detained in the Post-office here for want of postage.

The alarm of fire about seven o'clock last night was caused by the partial burning of the roof of the house of Mrs. Nelson, on Queen street, between Lee and Fairfax—the same house that was on fire a short time ago.

There were issued by the clerk of Clarke County Court during the past year 51 marriage licenses—24 of which were to whites and 27 to parties of color.

The Board of Directors of the Loudoun National Bank have declared a dividend of 4 per cent, for the stockholders in that institution for the past six months.

The ladies from this city who were lately removed from the positions they held in the U. S. Treasury Department, in Washington, have been reinstated.

Among those suffering from the prevailing epidemic is ex-Mayor W. B. Price, who, his many friends will be sorry to learn, is extremely ill.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 8. SENATE.

In the Senate, this morning, after some routine business, in which the Committee on Commerce reported a bill for erecting public buildings at Portland, Oregon,

The Naval Appropriation bill was taken up, and its consideration occupied the concluding portion of the morning hour.

Mr. Thurman's Louisiana inquiring resolution was then taken up, and Mr. Bayard, of Delaware, addressed the Senate.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

In the House of Representatives the Speaker laid before the House the certificate of three physicians to the effect that the physical condition of R. B. Irvin (the recusant witness in the Pacific Mail case) is such that imprisonment would be perilous to his health.

The communication was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Gen. Butler introduced a resolution that during the pendency of the investigation the Sergeant-at-Arms be instructed not to place Irvin in jail.

This resolution was rejected—yeas, 36; nays, 160.

A communication was read from Superintendent Baugh announcing that the mail from Washington for the North was burned last night, but that the mails from the West and Northwest went through safely.

The House then took up the private calendar.

THE NAVAL COMMITTEE.

The Committee on Naval Affairs, having no witnesses in the Stowell case to-day, adjourned until Tuesday.

The Louisiana Outrages—The New York Meeting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Herald has a double headed editorial, calling attention to the call for a meeting here on Monday and the influential names attached thereto. It says the President cannot afford to ignore or undervalue such a demonstration, supported by such eminent names. The President is bound to pay some regard to the public opinion of the country; he ought not to be confident that he is right when the best sentiment of the best classes condemn him. It is, at least, his duty to pause and reflect, and to re-examine the grounds of his unprecedented action. The President will soon see that he is not supported by the sentiment of the country, and that his unparalleled course arouses the apprehensions of the people as no other public event has done since the firing on Fort Sumter. This respectable and influential call ought to convince the President that there is a limit beyond which no public officer in this republic can go without the sanction of the people. The people do not forget the services of Gen. Grant; they do not grudge him the fate he has so freely won as commander of their armies in the most momentous crisis of our history; it is due to him, more than to any other man, that we possess an undivided country; it was his military genius that re-united a shattered federation, and the great body of American people are disposed to pass a lenient judgment upon his occasional mistakes in civil administration, but they would have him remember that their root of attachment to constitutional liberty is a deeper sentiment than personal admiration and gratitude, and that no past services, however distinguished and brilliant, can atone for a want of fidelity to the spirit of our free institutions, or release him from his solemn oath to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States.

Reported Presidential Message.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The New York Times says: "We learn from our correspondent at Washington that the President will send a message to Congress to-day or to-morrow on the Louisiana difficulty, and that it will not be unusually pointed. We hope that it will not be pointed with bayonets, like Gen. Sheridan's dispatch, which seems to have produced an outburst of indignation from one end of the country to the other. Some of the people in Washington must be curiously incompetent to gauge public feeling, or they would never have allowed that mad dispatch to have seen the light. It is much to be desired that some members of the government would take pains to acquaint themselves with the tone and temper of the country. If the Cabinet had been prudent it would have put Gen. Sheridan's forced message on or under the table or into the fire and said nothing about it. Instead of that Gen. Belknap telegraphed back to Sheridan, and said the President and all of us thoroughly approve your course, which was one of the most unnecessary and foolish blunders ever committed by the present government. We hope that the President's forthcoming message will be a little more creditable to himself than his Cabinet, his party, and to the people of the United States, who if they also, thoroughly approved of Sheridan's course, would stand disgraced, before the civilized world."

France.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Times' special dispatch from Paris says: "President MacMahon has decided to summon Mr. Dufour and La Baulay Baron DeLorey and the Marquis De Castelnau to a consultation upon the subject of the formation of a new Cabinet and agreement upon a programme of policy. It is certain that this attempt to constitute a Cabinet from Wednesday's majority in the Assembly will be fruitless, but it is indispensable to render the Mr. Mal's situation clear in the eyes of the nation and prove the impossibility of any government securing by the support of the majority that can be depended upon. Marshal MacMahon will then be free to choose a Cabinet from those whose programme he can accept, and this Cabinet will be charged with the conduct of the general election."

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Baron DeLorey has declared his inability to form a new Cabinet. President MacMahon has now applied to Mr. Dufour to undertake that task.

The Tilton-Beecher Case.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—There was as large an attendance of people in the corridors of the Brooklyn Court, this morning, as on the previous days, and it required vigorous efforts on the part of the police to preserve a passage way for the jurors through the throng to the doors leading to the court-room. About an hour before the doors were thrown open, the crowd, which had assembled, vented their impatience by shouting, cheering, and other ways expressive of disapprobation. Theodore Tilton occupied a prominent place in front of the court-room. When the court opened Judge Nelson, addressing the counsel, asked them what was their further pleasure. Ex-Judge Morris peremptorily challenged Austin Packard, one of the jurors in the box, and he was told to retire.

The work of sifting up the jury again proceeded. Michael Burns was then accepted as a juror. Mr. Beach, of Tilton's counsel, said, at that point he would not interpose any other challenge, but might do so before the jury were accepted.

Arrested on a Bench Warrant.

RICHMOND, VA., Jan. 8.—A. J. Andrews, of this city, was arrested this morning by U. S. Deputy Marshal Nye, on a bench warrant, issued by Judge Hughes, of the U. S. District Court, charged with sending insulting and defamatory letters to the court relative to a bankruptcy case, to which he Andrews is a party. Andrews is lodged in jail until to-morrow, when he will be taken to Alexandria for a hearing, where the U. S. District Court is in session.

The Missing Tugboat.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The steaming tug Speedwell, reported missing, had on board 30 persons and was engaged in some government work connected with torpedo manufacture. As she has not arrived at Newport, where she was bound, it is feared, she has been lost with all hands.

Zack Chandler.

LANSING, MICH., Jan. 8.—The opponents of Senator Chandler, claim that last night's caucus decides nothing and the matter is in as great doubt as ever. It requires 67 votes to elect instead of 61 as telegraphed last night.
